Have the children thoroughly wash their hands before beginning. Let them mix the three ingredients in a large bowl using their hands. Show the students how to roll a spoonful of dough into a ball and place them on a cookie sheet. Chill for three hours. This recipe makes several dozen cookies.

Variations: The cookie balls can be rolled in graham cracker crumbs or crispy rice cereal before chilling. Students can also dip the cookie balls into chocolate and place them on a sheet of waxed paper after they have been refrigerated.
