

Traffic Light

Copy the traffic light pattern below. Show the children a picture of a traffic light. Tell the children that traffic lights are used on busy streets so that cars don't crash into each other and so people can cross the street. Point out the color pattern red, yellow, and green. Tell the children red means the cars/traffic needs to stop, yellow means cars need to caution/slow down, and green means the cars can go. Have them use markers to color their traffic light in the same pattern.
